

Join Us to Create a Regional Ridematching Program in Manitoba

Workplaces around Winnipeg and across Manitoba typically try to find carpool matches for their employees in one of two ways: by paying for a subscription to an online ridematching program or by coordinating their own matching database for employees. The result is poor uptake and few matches, and minimal success in moving individuals from their current commuting choice of driving alone to a more sustainable mode choice such as carpooling, transit, cycling or walking.

What if all of these employers used the same ridematching system? By coordinating a central system where users can seek out matches either through their workplace or the entire region, the opportunities for success in finding a match are substantially increased.

Green Action Centre, with its experience and focus on sustainable transportation, is well positioned to administer and promote this ridematching program. Among the new technologies, RideShark emerged as the preferred option. This transportation tool allows users to find carpooling partners as well as cycling, walking or transit buddies for their commute to work. With features like gamification and rewards programs, 24/7 access to data, Canadian ownership and data storage, and a user-friendly website and app, it goes well beyond simply matching carpool partners.

How does it work?

The provincial subscription to RideShark will be administered by Green Action Centre. Participating employers will individually manage a sub-site for their employees. For your employees, the system maps out their possible commute by carpool, bus, bike or walking, matches them up with carpool partners travelling along their route, and experienced cyclists or transit riders to act as mentors. Users can track their trips through the system and receive incentives for trips taken by means other than driving alone. The system then tracks GHG emissions avoided, calories burned, fuel saved, etc.

How much staff time is required?

The administration time needed for your workplace's sub-site is minimal. Once set up, it essentially runs itself. Of course, more effort means more results!
